(OO: NEW YORK)

On 2/15/70, HOFFMAN was sentenced to 8 months, for 23 instances of contempt of court, by USDC Judge JULIUS HOFFMAN in Chicago. This sentence was for the action of captioned during the ARL trial arising out of the disturbances at the Democratic National Convention, August, 1968, in Chicago.

On 2/20/70, Judge HOFFMAN sentenced captioned to 5 years and $5000, fine to run concurrently with his contempt sentence, upon his conviction for violation of the ARL statute.

Captioned is presently confined to Cook County jail in Chicago, pending his appeal of the contempt and ARL sentence.

Chicago will follow captioned's appeal in USDC, Chicago.

NATIONAL EMERGENCY CIVIL LIBERTIES
COMMITTEE, Formerly Known As
Emergency Civil Liberties Committee

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications" of December 1, 1961, by the Committee on Un-American Activities, United States House of Representatives, Washington, D.C., describes the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee (ECLC) as an organization whose avowed purpose is to abolish the House Committee on Un-American Activities. It stated the ECLC was established in 1951, and "although representing itself as a non-Communist group, actually operates as a front for the Communist Party."

"The New York Times" issue of April 1, 1968, contained an article reflecting the ECLC was changing its name to the National ECLC (NECLC) "to reflect our determination to develop a vital national civil liberties organization in all 50 states as rapidly as possible."

The "Newark Sunday News" of Newark, New Jersey, issue of April 20, 1969, contained an article showing the NECLC, of 25 East 26th Street, New York, New York, operates from its office an anti-war legal help organization for draft-age men, reservists and those on active duty.

BLACK PANTHER PARTY

According to its official newspaper, the Black Panther Party (BPP) was started during December, 1966, in Oakland, California, to organize black people so they can take control of the life, politics, and the destiny of the black community. It was organized by BOBBY GEORGE SEALE, BPP Chairman, and HUEY P. NEWTON, BPP Minister of Defense. NEWTON is presently serving a sentence of 2 to 15 years on a conviction of manslaughter in connection with the killing of an Oakland police officer.

The official newspaper, "The Black Panther", which further describes itself as the "Black Community News Service", states that the BPP advocates the use of guns and guerrilla tactics in its revolutionary program to end oppression of the black people. Residents of the black community are urged to arm themselves against the police who are consistently referred to in the publication as "pigs" who should be killed.

"The Black Panther" issue of September 7, 1968, contains an editorial by BPP Minister of Education, GEORGE MASON MURRAY, which ends with the following:

"Black men. Black people, colored persons of America, revolt everywhere! Arm yourselves. The only culture worth keeping is a revolutionary culture. Change. Freedom everywhere. Dynamite! Black Power. Use the gun. Kill the pigs everywhere."

Included in the introduction to an article appearing in the October 5, 1968, edition of "The Black Panther" is the statement, "... we will not dissent from American Government. We will overthrow it."

Issues of "The Black Panther" regularly contain quotations from the writings of Chairman MAO Tse-tung of the People's Republic of China and feature MAO's statement that "political power grows out of the barrel of a gun."

The national headquarters of the BPP is located at 3106 Shattuck Avenue, Berkeley, California. Branches have been established at various locations throughout the United States.

Abbott Howard Hoffman
Security Matter -- Anarchist

"The Village Voice", a New York City (NYC) weekly newspaper, in its March 12, 1970 issue on page 55, sets forth an article by Andrew Sarris entitled, "Films in Focus" which states in part as follows:

"FOR THE BENEFIT of readers who wish to be kept informed on where it's at, the following press release dated March 3, 1970 is reprinted in its entirety: 'Abbie Hoffman announced this morning (March 3) that he and other defendants in the Chicago conspiracy trial will attempt to offset legal expenses by making their own feature film of the trial.

" 'Speaking on Alex Bennett's WMCA radio show, Hoffman said the film will be called "The Seditious Movie" ("because we're not allowed to make seditious speeches"). It will star all seven defendants, their lawyers, and a number of "sympathetic" celebrities including Dustin Hoffman (no relation), he said.

" 'The Yippee leader revealed that he sent a telegram to Judge Julius Hoffman (also no relation) yesterday afternoon offering the judge $100,000 to play himself in the film. The prosecutor and assistant prosecutor have also been offered money to appear.

" 'The picture will be directed by Nick Ray ("Rebel Without a Cause"), Hoffman (Abbie, that is) and Jerry Rubin, Abbie Hoffman said. It will be filmed this "spring in New York on a studio set that will be an exact replica of the Chicago courtroom where the trial took place."

"The implications of such a press release strain the resources of the most speculative mind. The idea of re-enacting a judicial spectacle full of violent outbursts, poisonous prejudices, and the most lurid lapses of decorum would seem to be consistent with Abbie Hoffman's strategy of making political realities seem as grotesquely contrived and as predictably theatrical as a Punch-and-Judy show. And who is to say that he is ill-advised to treat his predicament with such levity? Sacco and Vanzetti were much more lovable than Abbie Hoffman, but they were judicially crucified just the same. The fact is that Abbie Hoffman and his co-defendants should never have been brought to trial at all on such filmy evidence and on such nebulous charges. And that they should be denied bail as dangerous criminals at a time when the alleged murderers of the Mississippi civil rights workers were roaming around on their own recognizance indicates the rampant hypocrisy of the American judicial system. But what galls many otherwise sympathetic souls about Hoffman is that he seems determined to exploit every misfortune to the greater glory of his own showbiz personality. Dear Abbie just won't behave like a professional victim with sad, mournful, hangdog expressions. There is no stoicism, no proletarian nobility, no heroic dignity in this clown of a thousand costumes. There will be no revolutionary songs about Abbie Hoffman, perhaps because Abbie knows enough about history to realize that the subjects of revolutionary songs seldom live long enough to sing them.

"There is a great deal of talk these days about the proper tactics for reform and revolution as if the unarmed and the outnumbered can ever prevail even with magical verbal potions from Havana or Hanoi. More likely, the white middle class radicals will indeed cash in their ideological images for the rich rewards of cultural one-upmanship while the blacks of all classes bear the full brunt of the backlash. It is hard to forget that Abbie Hoffman is at least partly responsible for making Nixon, Agnew, Mitchell, and Carswell such household words, and so long as Nixon is allowed to campaign against Abbie Hoffman so long will the Great Silent Majority continue to swell into terrifyingly Hitlerian hordes. As I have said, Abbie Hoffman doesn't belong in a courtroom or on the political stump. He is a creature of the theatre, the cinema, the media. He should not be tried by judges, but rather reviewed by the gentlemen of the Fourth Estate. And was it so long ago that Eugene McCarthy's crusading children cut their hair before canvassing the New Hampshire voters? If anyone has found a better way to change conditions in America except by winning elections, then let that inspired innovator step forward and explain how. Somehow, I don't see that the antics of Abbie Hoffman are improving things, but I am talking as a citizen rather than as a critic. As a critic, I am sorry that Abbie Hoffman was unable to get Groucho Marx for the role of Judge Hoffman. With Nicholas Ray at the helm, and Groucho Marx in his judge's robes, 'The Seditious Seven' might well have emerged as a mordant version of 'Duck Soup'. But as for changing people's minds and souls with a movie, forget it! Reliable observers tell me that Southern audiences give the murderous rednecks in 'Easy Rider' standing ovations for blowing up the nonconformist bikers."

ABBOTT HOWARD HOFFMAN

b7D [REDACTED] advised that ABBIE HOFFMAN, one of the "Chicago Seven" will speak on April 16, 1970, at 8 PM, on the Skidmore College campus, Saratoga Springs, New York. HOFFMAN's topic has not been announced. He is being brought in by an ad hoc group of students seeking to establish a Skidmore College student lecture series. Skidmore, an all girl college, does have some male exchange students, including Colgate University exchange student STEVEN GOLDSTEIN who made the announcement that HOFFMAN would appear. The lecture will be open to the public. [REDACTED] he did not know how much money HOFFMAN would receive.

[REDACTED] that the lecture will be held in the Skidmore College hall, Old Chapel Building, located on Spring and Regent Streets, on the old campus in Saratoga Springs. Capacity of this hall is eight hundred people. Admission cost is $1.00 in advance, and $1.50 at the door.

ARMED AND DANGEROUS.

Chicago, Illinois

On March 20, 1969, Assistant United States Attorney (AUSA) RICHARD G. SCHULTZ, Northern District of Illinois (NDI), advised that at 2:30 pm, Central Standard Time, on March 20, 1969, Judge WILLIAM J. CAMPBELL accepted 17 indictments returned by a Federal Grand Jury in Chicago, Illinois, concerning disturbances in connection with the Democratic National Convention held in Chicago, Illinois, in August, 1968. The subject was among eight demonstrators indicted by the Federal Grand Jury.

United States Attorney (USA) THOMAS FORAN, NDI, advised on April 9, 1969, that on that date the subject was one of eight defendants arraigned in the courtroom of United States District Judge JULIUS H. HOFFMAN, NDI, Chicago, Illinois, in connection with disturbances at the Democratic National Convention (DNC) in Chicago, Illinois, in August, 1968. All of the defendants, including the subject, pled not guilty and a trial date was set for September 24, 1969.

The newspaper on Page 1, contained an article entitled "Fall Offensive to Culminate in Massive Demonstrations" which stated in part as follows:

"CHICAGO

"Rennie Davis, Dave Dellinger, Tom Hayden, John Froines, Abbie Hoffman, Jerry Rubin, Bobby Seale and Lee Weiner are now under federal indictment for 'criminal conspiracy'. The eight, all prominently a part of the mass demonstrations during the Democratic National Convention in Chicago, are the first persons to be charged with conspiracy under Title 18 of the Civil Rights Act of 1968. This makes it a felony to 'travel in interstate commerce...with the intent to incite, promote, encourage, participate in and carry on a riot...'

"Faced by a potentially political challenge, the eight defendants have determined on a political response as well as a legal defense. Through their trial they will carry forward the first constitutional challenge to the anti-riot act. They intend, as well, to re-focus public attention on the root issues that brought them and thousands of others to Chicago and the Democratic National Convention: the War, racism, the widening power of the military-academic-industrial complex, the enfeeblement of the nation's political process. The eight refuse to be intimidated by the government's scare label of 'conspiracy' they call themselves The Conspiracy. And they confront one of the most ominous challenges to political liberty since the passing of Sen. Mc Carthy."

"Abbott Hoffman took the stand today in the Chicago conspiracy trial. He was the first of the seven defendants to do so.

"Under a barrage of Government objections, he tried to explain his views of youth culture, the generation gap, hippies, Yippies, guerrilla theater, the exorcism of the Pentagon and 'the politics of ecstasy'.

"His long brown hair rippled down his back, his printed shirt was open two buttons down his chest, and his eyes mischievously roved over the courtroom.

"The coincidence of the surname shared by Mr. Hoffman and the trial judge, Julius J. Hoffman, has provoked comment in and out of court since the trial began. Early in the trial, Mr. Hoffman called the judge his 'illegitimate father' and renounced the name of Hoffman.

"So, when Leonard I. Weinglass, a defense attorney, began the examination this afternoon by asking him what his name was, he replied merely:

"'My name is Abbie. I'm an orphan of America'.

"Mr. Schultz asked that the record show that the defendant Hoffman was on the stand, and Judge Hoffman so ordered, noting that Hoffman was the name that appeared on the indictment.

"A similar argument developed when Mr. Weinglass asked where Mr. Hoffman lived.

"'I live in the Woodstock Nation,' he said. 'Woodstock Nation' is the title of a book Mr. Hoffman wrote this year. It takes its name from the upstate New York rock festival held last summer.

"Prosecutor Protests

"Mr. Schultz protested that the answer was not responsive. But Mr. Hoffman persisted.

"The Woodstock Nation, he explained, is not a place but a 'state of mind-- a nation of alienated young people which we carry around with us in our minds just as the Sioux Indians carried around the Sioux nation in their minds.'

"But Judge Hoffman interrupted to say, 'One address will be sufficient, nothing about philosophy or Indians, sir. You say Woodstock. Where is Woodstock?'

"'It's in my mind,' Mr. Hoffman said, 'but presently it's in the penitentiaries and institutions of a decaying system.'

"And so it went. Asked when he was born, the witness said that he was physically born in 1936 but that psychologically he was born in 1960.

"Under further questioning, Mr. Hoffman described himself as a 'cultural revolutionary' and defined that as someone trying to develop 'a new people in a new society.'"

On February 26, 1970, AUSA MICHAEL NASH made available a copy of a Judgment and Commitment and a Certificate of Contempt pertaining to United States of America v. ABBOTT H. HOFFMAN.

The Judgment and Commitment reflects that on February 14, 1970, the subject was found guilty of 23 individual and separate criminal contempts by Judge JULIUS J. HOFFMAN as specified in the Certificate of Contempt in that the subject during his trial which began on September 24, 1969, participated in continual disruptive outbursts in direct defiance of judicial authority and was committed to the custody of the Attorney General of the United States or his authorized representative for a period of eight months.

The "Sunday News", a New York City weekly newspaper in its February 15, 1970 issue on Page 3, contained an article entitled "Sentence 4 of Chi 7 for Contempt; Court Explodes After Case Goes to Jury".

This article which is datelined "Chicago, February 14 (Combined Services)" states in part as follows:

"The 100-day trial of the Chicago Seven went to the jury today and the judge immediately sentenced four defendants to lengthy terms for contempt.

"A screaming, sobbing melee broke out after Federal Judge Julius J. Hoffman, citing 'intolerable disruptions' and 'anarchy,' sentenced David T. Dellinger, 54--described by the prosecution as 'chief architect' of the riots--to 29 months and 16 days in prison on 32 counts of contempt.

"Third to be sentenced for contempt was Thomas E. Hayden, 29, a leader of the new left who drafted the founding document of the Students for a Democratic Society. He got 14 months and 14 days on 11 counts.

"Next was Abbott (Abbie) Hoffman, 32, the bushy-haired prophet of the Youth International Party (Yippies), whose courtroom antics, such as throwing kisses to the jury, became a staple of the trial. He got eight months on 23 counts of contempt. Judge Hoffman quoted Abbie Hoffman as saying to him Feb. 4: 'You're a disgrace to the Jews.'"

The records of the United States District Court, Northern District of Illinois, Chicago, Illinois, reflect that the case entitled "The United States of America vs. David T. Dellinger, et al" commenced in the court of Judge JULIUS J. HOFFMAN, Chicago, Illinois, on September 24, 1969, and was in session until February 14, 1970, when the jury began deliberating upon evidence submitted during the course of the trial.

On February 18, 1970, the jury advised the court that they had reached a verdict in the case and stated that they found the subject not guilty on the charge of conspiracy and guilty on the charge that he did travel in interstate commerce from outside the State of Illinois with intent to incite, organize, promote and encourage a riot on or about August 26, 1968, August 27, 1968 and August 29, 1968, in Chicago, Illinois.

"A Federal Court jury found all the defendants in the tumultuous trial of the Chicago Seven innocent today of conspiring to incite riots during the 1968 Democratic National Convention, but convicted five of crossing state lines with intent to incite riots.

"The jury of 10 women and two men returned its verdict after more than 41 hours of deliberations over five days. It came 21 weeks to the day after the militant anti-war protest leaders went on trial Sept. 24 before United States District Judge Julius J. Hoffman.

"Guilty verdicts on the intent-to-incite riot charges were returned against David T. Dellinger, 53, and Rennard C. (Rennie) Davis, 29, leaders of the National Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam; Youth International Party leaders Abbott H. (Abbie) Hoffman, 32, and Jerry C. Rubin, 31; and Thomas E. Hayden, 29, a co-organizer of Students for a Democratic Society.

"University professors John R. Froines, 30, and Lee Weiner, 30, were acquitted on both counts against them. They were charged with plotting to firebomb an underground garage near convention headquarters.

"Hoffman did not immediately sentence the five convicted men. They face sentences of up to five years in prison and $10,000 fines. All of the defendants already are in jail, serving contempt sentences. The sentences, which range up to almost 2½ years, were imposed Saturday and Sunday by the judge for courtroom disruptions during the 4½ month trial.

"Hoffman refused to grant bail after today's convictions.

"I have determined they are dangerous men to have at large," he said."

The records of the United States District Court, Chicago, Illinois, in the case entitled, "The United States of America vs. David T. HOFFMAN sentenced the subject to five years in the custody of the Attorney General of the United States or his designated representative and fined him $5,000.00 plus court costs. Judge HOFFMAN in sentencing the subject, stated that the subject's past actions and his statements in court showed him to be clearly a dangerous person and accordingly, the subject was committed without bail.

The "Daily News", in its February 21, 1970 issue on Page 2, contained an article entitled, "Chi 5 Are Slapped with 2 Others 5s".

This article which is datelined "Chicago, February 20 (UPI)" stated in part as follows:

"U.S. District Court Judge Julius J. Hoffman pronounced sentences of five years in prison and $5,000 fines today on five militant protest leaders convicted of crossing state lines to incite riots during the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

"The prison terms--ordered to run concurrently with terms already meted out to the five men for contempt of court--were the maximum allowable under the law. Hoffman could have imposed fines of $10,000 each.

"The sentences were imposed on David T. Dellinger, 53, Rennard C. (Rennie) Davis, 29, Abbott (Abbie) Hoffman, 32, Jerry C. Rubin, 33, and Thomas E. Hayden, 29.

"The defendants smiled, clapped one another on the back and quipped with each other during the sentencing. Abbie Hoffman, yippie clown to the last, shouted to the judge as he was led away: "'It ain't whether you win or lose, Julie, it's how you play the game'.

"When the yippie leader was fined $5,000, he interrupted: 'Judge, could you make that three and one half (meaning $3,500)?'"

"The East Village Other", a New York City weekly newspaper, in its March 10, 1970 issue on Page 4, contained an article by MIKE GOLD entitled "Chicago" which stated as follows:

"Cook County Jail isn't known for being one of America's more hospitable institutions. Not very remarkably, most of its inmates are black; most of them haven't been found guilty in a 'court of law' yet. The jail helps to find issues: most of the inmates are awaiting trial, they are too poor, too young and too black to afford the high bail set by the judge.

"Life in jail isn't like the T.V. suggests. The day after Abbie Hoffman was released from solitary confinement for calling a guard a pig, he risked being tossed back in the hole to smuggle the following message to his sisters and brothers:

"I've just been moved out of isolation, just so the newsmen could see me in the cage so clean and neat. It's unbelievable. I was told our pictures are all in every paper today as I predicted. The warden made a special deal with them. It's so obscene, just like I said in my closing statement: 'Delilah is waiting in the wings; our heads will be shaved, just like in Nazi Germany. Tomorrow we will sell the hair outside the prison walls.'

"I hear on the news now they are bragging they clipped twelve inches of hair off me. Jerry and I were dragged down four floors, but they don't tell that part.

"It was the bloodiest haircut in penal history. The newsmen that come through here are taken on a whirlwind smear tour with no conversation allowed between them and us. Everything they write about our stay is untrue and just public relations (obscene) carried on by the warden's staff.

"Jerry and I have lost a lot of weight. The food is unfit for human consumption. A system of informers and guards is always present in an attempt to ferret out information. This letter is even written at great risk because if anything is "known, I will get isolated and beaten again. Flash. But I must speak out. There are people in need of medical and psychiatric care who are not receiving it. If you're not in isolation like I was, there is a bad bed shortage. Last night my first night out, I was moved into Dave's ward, D1. I sleep on the bench in the waiting room for there aren't enough beds.

"The warden had orders to cut off our hair now rather than wait until next week in the event we got bail and were let out on the street. The orders came from Sheriff Joe Woods personally we learned. Jerry and I had to be handcuffed to the chair. I began to understand for the first time why the barber shop poles are red, white and blue. Those colors have come to represent the sadism and brutality present in American thinking policy.

"All America is a prison. The President is a warden and the people are all inmates.

"Love Abbie

"P.S. I just saw the haircut story on t.v. and it is a total obscene lie. I never said anything that they said I did - except that 'it was an act of racism': They all want to make it sound cute but my longhaired brothers and sisters who understand the truth of this can see through their short-haired pig lies."

The records of the United States Court of Appeals Seventh Circuit, Chicago, Illinois, reflect that on February 28, 1970, the court on motions from the defendant, who was convicted in the United States District Court, Chicago, Illinois, on February 14, 1970, for contempt of court and was also convicted for violating the anti-riot statute ordered the defendant admitted to $25,000.00 bond during the pendency of appeals in the matter. This article which is datelined "Chicago, February 28" stated in part as follows:

"The seven defendants in the Chicago conspiracy trial were released from jail today in a total of $155,000 bond.

"About five hours after the United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit granted them bail, the seven men walked out of Chicago's Federal Building into a shouting crowd of supporters and newsmen.

"While traffic backed up, the defendants held an impromptu news conference in the middle of Jackson Boulevard. They then went across the street to Christ the King Lutheran Church for a more formal session.

"Brushing a hand over his newly cropped hair, Abbie Hoffman, one of the defendants, told newsmen: 'They're going to have to cut off more than hair to suppress the revolutionary fervor growing among young people. They're going to have to cut off our heads.'

"The defendants were released after one of their appeal attorneys posted $15,500, the required 10 percent of the total bond, with United States Commissioner James T. Balog.

"Brought from their cells at Cook County Jail, where they have spent the last two weeks, the men appeared in Commissioner Balog's hearing room in the Federal Building.

"Commissioner Balog read the conditions of bond to the defendants, warning them that the conditions could be revised at the discretion of the Court of Appeals. He also warned them against 'seditious speech,' although he did not make clear what restrictions would be placed on the defendants' public speeches.

"The panel set $25,000 bond each for the five defendants who were convicted of crossing state lines with intent to incite a riot--David T. Dellinger, Rennie C. Davis, Thomas E. Hayden, Jerry C. Rubin and Mr. Hoffman.

"Federal District Court Judge Julius J. Hoffman had denied bail for the defendants on both the riot and contempt charges, contending that they were 'dangerous men to be at large'.

"The seven New Left spokesmen already are scheduling joint appearances in as many as 30 U.S. cities, where they will re-enact portions of the trial.

"Three of the defendants already are writing books about the trial. And, in their major project, all seven will play themselves in a color movie about the historic 4½-month trial, to be directed by the three Yippie defendants, Abbie Hoffman, Jerry Rubin and Lee Weiner.

"THE SEVEN are planning a whole series of related projects to raise money for their appeal and to exploit what they feel are the government's mistakes in bringing them to trial on charges of causing riots during the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

"Their initial effort, and last Chicago-based campaign, will be a drive to raise $10,000 to bail out 30 of their cellmates in the County Jail.

"And all seven have pledged to stay together to 'conspire' to organize street demonstrations during the Republican and Democratic conventions in 1972.

"THESE ACTIVITIES were discussed at a lengthy and spirited meeting Saturday night in the Conrad-Hilton Hotel. The meeting was held only hours after the seven were released on bond on orders from the U.S. Court of Appeals.

II. ACTIVITIES

A. Anti-War Demonstrations

Washington, D.C., November 9-15, 1969

On October 27, 1969, Special Agents (SAs) of the FBI observed JERRY RUBIN and the subject hold a press conference at the Department of Justice in Washington, D.C.

At this press conference HOFFMAN indicated that the reason he appeared in Washington on that evening was to challenge the men responsible for the anti-riot law and their trial, to a fair fight. He identified these individuals as "JOHN BUTCHER MITCHELL, ADOLF HITLER JULIUS HOFFMAN, and SPIRO AGNEW." HOFFMAN also stated that after the mass march on the White House on November 15, 1969, they planned to march down Constitution Avenue to the Department of Justice at which time demands would be made that all conspiracy trials be stopped. HOFFMAN reiterated the fact that the theme of the march on November 15, 1969, would be to "Stop the War, Stop the Trial."

"The Quicksilver Times," a local underground type newspaper published in Washington, D.C., in its edition of October 29, to November 9, 1969, contained an article on Page 4, concerning a press conference held by ABBIE HOFFMAN and JERRY RUBIN at the Department of Justice in Washington, D.C., on October 27, 1969.

This article read in part as follows:

"The two joy boys of the hippie roadshow, ABBIE HOFFMAN and JERRY RUBIN played a one-night stand in the street theater outside the Department of Justice on Monday evening, October 27, . . .

"HOFFMAN and RUBIN are calling for a march of 500,00 people immediately after the Mobilization's program, from the Ellipse down Constitution Avenue to the 'Department of Injustice' where they will hold a massive 'free-in' and demand a stop of the trial and the war.

"... HOFFMAN said that the case (of the Conspiracy 8) cannot be fought in the courtroom of Chicago.

"It must be brought to Washington, D.C. - 'home of the real people who are trying us!'

"At the end of the press conference, HOFFMAN ran for the gigantic doors of the Justice Department and started pounding them with his boxing-glove fists, yelling 'come out, JOHN, come out now and fight!'"

This article which is datelined "New York (LNS)" stated in part as follows:

"NEW YORK (LNS) -- QUESTION: When does a Yippie become a YIP?

"ANSWER: When SDS falls apart, when repression grows, and when the movement needs a new national organization.

"That is the basic logic which led many of the original founders of Yippie, bolstered by Michigan's White Panthers and other movement people, to have a weekend-long meeting in New York City recently.

"At the gathering, held Dec. 6-7 at the Underground Press Syndicate (UPS) loft just off Union Square, about 30 people took a few steps toward the transformation of Yippie from myth to organization, from Yippie to Youth International Party.

"Several of the defendants and staff of The Conspiracy flew in from Chicago for the event -- they were known as 'The Cast of O'Hare' (in deference to Chicago's O'Hare International Airport). Jerry Rubin and Abbie Hoffman, probably the two people most closely associated with the Yippie myth, were on hand, a little more sober (not too much) and no less gutsy as a result of their indictment and courtroom experience. Tom Hayden and Rennie Davis weren't at the meeting, but they were reported to be interested in the idea of a new national organization.

"Abbie joked a lot, but he also talked about 'leadership'. He thinks the time has come for leaders to accept that responsibility. Jerry did not think YIP should write up a program -- 'kids know what they want' -- but he said YIP should provide kids all over with an organization to relate to.

"The people present at the meeting indicate the possible components of such a conglomerate -- though no structure has emerged yet."

III. PUBLIC APPEARANCES

A. American University,
Washington, D.C.
November 9, 1969

"The Evening Star," a Washington, D.C. local newspaper, edition of November 10, 1969, contained an article on page A-3 entitled "Two Senators to Speak at Rally." This article stated that ABBIE HOFFMAN, one of the defendants in the Chicago trial, "spoke to about 1200 persons mostly students at American University on November 9, 1969. This article stated in part:

"Referring to the trial, HOFFMAN, a leader of the yippies, stated 'It's chilling now. It used to be comic....' He added that the prosecution is 'chilling on young people who want to oppose Government policy. They will think twice now before crossing a line or pressing their right to assemble to seek redress of grievances.'"

B. Rutgers University,
New Brunswick, New Jersey,
November 12, 1969

b7D

[REDACTED] that a rally was held in the Rutgers Gymnasium at Rutgers University in New Brunswick, New Jersey, on the evening of November 12, 1969, for the purpose of listening to a speech by JERRY RUBIN.

[REDACTED] that the subject arrived at the Rutgers Gymnasium at approximately 9:30 p.m. and spoke until 10:15 p.m.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

NY 100-161445

[REDACTED] that the subject mentioned that JERRY RUBIN had been detained by the authorities in Chicago, Illinois, and would be unable to appear and that he had come in RUBIN's place.

[REDACTED] that the subject's speech dealt largely with the trial in Chicago. He commented on how the trial was unfair, how the judge was a racist and how the entire situation was a fascist plot against them. He implied that BOBBY SEALE had been framed and that SEALE's and all of their rights had been denied. He concluded his comments by stating that he would see everyone in Washington, D.C. on November 15, 1969.

C. George Washington University,
Washington, D.C.,
November 14 and 15, 1969

An SA of the FBI observed the subject speak at a rally held behind the George Washington University Library in Washington, D.C. at 11:15 p.m. on November 14, 1969. The subject stated that "We will take violence in the streets and death by violence, rather than a white-collar job, a living death." HOFFMAN also urged the crowd to march on the Department of Justice at 5:00 p.m., on November 15, 1969, and stated "We will picket Justice for three hours, and then we will pick it up and take it home with us."

"The Hatchet," a George Washington University student publication, in its edition dated November 17, 1969, contains an article on page 1 and 7 entitled "RUBIN, HOFFMAN Make Hit with Friday Night Crowd." The article stated that JERRY RUBIN and ABBIE HOFFMAN spoke behind the George Washington University Library on Friday night, November 14, 1969. The article stated in part:

"HOFFMAN, the hit of the long, bitterly cold night, opened with one of the most original statements of disillusionment of America...

"The main thrust of HOFFMAN's talk was a free swinging critique of contemporary America. He labeled American Foreign Policy as 'mostly senile and it sags, sags like the bellies of war veterans from the Silent Majority.' Elaborating on the Silent Majority, HOFFMAN defined it as the people who 'talk and don't do a (obscene) thing.'

"Concerning the weekend's activities, HOFFMAN continued that 'It is not just the war that is wrong with the country. We are not here just to end the war, we are here to bring it home.' He said that the war must be ended because it is destroying the young people of the country.

"HOFFMAN closed by saying, 'We will risk violence in the streets. We will come as a new generation dedicated to love. But to love we have to survive, and to survive we have to fight.'"

[REDACTED] that ABBIE HOFFMAN spoke at George Washington University in the early morning of November 15, 1969, to a crowd of approximately 2,000 persons. HOFFMAN spoke concerning the trial in Chicago, and stated that the "defendants in the trial need $50,000 to bribe the Judge." He stated that the defendants had no chance because the establishment is going to get rid of the leaders one way or another. He used BOBBY SEALE of the Black Panther Party as an example. He stated that their lawyers will wind up going to jail for defending them.

[REDACTED] that the 1969-1970 Lectures Committee of the Rothwell Student Center Program Board of Wisconsin State University, Superior, Wisconsin, scheduled an appearance of the subject at the university on November 17, 1969.

[REDACTED] that the subject did not appear at the university on November 17, 1969, as scheduled because of bad air travel conditions from Chicago, Illinois.

[REDACTED] at the subject did appear at the Rothwell Student Center, Wisconsin State University, Superior, Wisconsin, on December 5, 1969, at which time he spoke to an audience of about 400 persons from the Duluth, Minnesota and Superior, Wisconsin area, and with about half of the individuals being lukewarm or inclined to support him.

[REDACTED] that the subject delivered an attack against Government, the judicial system and education. He called for the establishment of a "new nation, dedicated to love".

[REDACTED] at the brunt of the subject's attack was centered on the Chicago trial of eight persons, including himself, charged with conspiracy to incite riot during the Chicago convention. He referred to the trial as a "kangaroo court" and a "soap opera", stating it was the first time in the history of the United States Government that people were tried for a state of mind. He also stated Judge HOFFMAN chose the jury members rapidly and unfairly.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

He stated the eight were being tried without evidence and would end up in prison just to scare the young people of the country, and he compared the trial to the annihilation of the Jews under the Nazi regime. He stated that out of the 150 seats available in the court room, only 12 were occupied by his friends. He said the rest were taken by FBI men, policemen and other agents, and stated these measures were taken so the defendants would be assured of a "fair and impartial trial."

[REDACTED] that the subject boasted of the fact that he has had 40 arrests in the past 10 years and has not "been put away yet", but said "we'll go to prison on this one." He stated, "Sometimes I think the Yippies are the only Americans left." He said they survive for free and do not work because there are no jobs worth doing. "why work?", he said. "Give people what they want... let the machines do it." He called capitalism "an economic jungle which has become obsolete," but later he appealed for "bread", the Yippie word for money.

I took the stand and it's a very unusual trial because you're not able to say too much from the witness stand. They call it self-serving statements. There's a thing that, see, once you've said that you're not guilty, you can't say it any more because that goes towards your defense or something like that. It's a very unusual trial. " a sudden, one day, April 12, 1968, everything that people have been doing for four months telling people to come to Chicago, all of a sudden on that date, it became illegal and people sometime think that we're on trial for kicking pigs or spitting on the sidewalk or threatening to kill (uh). I don't know how many of them were there. Daley, all those other people. We ain't charged with any of that stuff. We're charged with crossing state lines with the intention to incite a riot and a riot is defined by an act or threat of violence by one or more people in a crowd of three or more. Probably it's already happened here about sixteen times and you wouldn't know it cause it's very (uh), it's a conspiracy after all. You know - secret. Secondly, secondly (uh), conspiracy, you have it in your heads watch all those World War II movies. Conspiracy's something you sit in a dark closet with a candle and you go psst, psst, psst. You know, and you look at all those blueprints and then you figure it out. The (uh) night before we were arraigned last April, a year after, almost a year after Chicago happened, we were introduced to each other for the first time. Many of us hadn't met each other, but that's (uh), that's the nature of conspiracy. But we had Dave Dellinger, a pacifist, if you're an antiwar movement, it's good to have at least one of them. We got Doctor John Froines, from Eugene, Oregon, a chemist. You can bet your (obscene) you gotta have a (obscene) chemist. Pennie Davis, we got him in a trade with Hanoi Pose. He's a Rennie's the closest thing we got to an American. It was at a 4-H club. Tom Hayden, Berkeley, Jerry Rubin, I met him. Lee Weiner, he happened to stroll in the park, got thrown in, they had to have a local guy from Chicago, and then, of course, there was Bobby Seale. That was the most surprised of all. Bobby Seale didn't know (uh) till the day before he came to Chicago, that he was actually coming. The evidence against Bobby Seale was three lines out of a fifteen minute speech he gave in Lincoln Park one night and an airplane ticket showed he crossed state lines. That was more evidence than against some of the defendants. But you start to learn

" if you plow into this case that evidence is not what this case is about, and Bobby Seale was in there for a very important reason, because in order to attack a broad range protest movement, black liberation struggle just couldn't be left out, you had to have one of them. They didn't have a woman, and we were kind of disappointed, so (uh) you know (uh) it wasn't our fault. I mean I know about male chauvinism and all that (obscene). You can blame it on Attorney General Mitchell. I been trying to get into women's liberation for over a year cause that's where the girls are. I just love that. Can't. Let's get back to the movies. You're thinking kid, you never know where it's coming from. Bobby Seale said in his speech, 'let me talk to you agents out there.' Like they have these speeches, like right here, this speech is being recorded by a number of FBI agents. We found out at the trial that the closer you get to Washington, D.C., the more FBI agents are in the room, and Pittsburgh is not too far so there are probably about five or six FBI agents here. As a matter of fact, they don't need them because live testimony has been subpoenaed evidence from underground newsmen but they's underground. Actually, they're just undercover informants. Regular newsmen, like this guy in San Diego. He was an editor of a television news station there, had been an FBI informant for the past three years, code name Cairo. about a book I read Louis Goldsberg of the justice of the peace in New York. His code name was Winston. They all have these code names, just like (uh) from all those old movies in the 1940's. You know, I was a communist for the FBI, and that sort of stuff. I should do it, it's my duty to my country. I was once on Lexington Avenue and 125th Street and I saw the United States flag with a corner touching the ground and I also saw a red flag with a hammer and sickle and I decided then that I should save my country.

They mean a certain event and it's because of that event and what happened that there's no political party that's going to hold a convention in a major city in a pig empire for the rest of the future, I mean (uh) you just think about it for a while. The Republican Party is never going to have a convention in Pittsburgh. They're never going to have a convention in Washington, Atlantic City, or New York. The only place they are going to be allowed to have a convention is in Hawaii, which is the center of the military empire. You think about it. Because of how this country has moved eastward into Asia, into Southeast Asia, Hawaii is where all political conventions are going to be, they'll be broadcast via remote control television to the rest of the people. That's kind of a very subtle fascism, where you can't go and exert what you want to say at the point at which decisions are being made. The lecture commenced at 9:00 p.m., on the outside patio of the Student Union Building, located on campus. It ended at 10:15 p.m. Approximately 2500 were in attendance.

When HOFFMAN was first introduced, shouts, jeers, catcalls, and whistles voiced the disapproval of HOFFMAN's appearance by the majority of the audience. The only support given HOFFMAN was from a group of campus activists who had positioned themselves near the speaker's platform.

Turmoil, disruption and confusion marked HOFFMAN's speech. Tomatoes, and bags of flour were tossed by students in disagreement with HOFFMAN and his philosophy. HOFFMAN's remarks, for the most part, consisted of answering detractors and those who interrupted. His speech had no continuity.

HOFFMAN, in his remarks, and in a jesting manner, as most of them were, stated he was a communist. To an inquiry as to how much he was being paid, he replied $2,000, and that you can even make money being a communist. A member of the audience suggested he might send HOFFMAN a bomb, to which he replied that that would be good and that it should be mailed to "Dear Abbie" in Chicago, and that he would open it in the courtroom. In another remark, HOFFMAN wondered how there could be a conspiracy if none of the eight defendants had ever seen one another to conspire. He also voiced what he considered an injustice that witnesses for a defendant cannot be questioned by the defendant's lawyer, although the prosecutor can question anyone whom he wants before he enters the court. In another remark, HOFFMAN stated the courtroom was filled with FBI Agents getting names of defense witnesses and then hurrying to get information about them for the prosecutor.

HOFFMAN spent most of his time answering his detractors and did not get into any formal talk. The atmosphere, it appeared, caused HOFFMAN to cut short his remarks and end the lecture before he actually intended to. b7c

[REDACTED] advised that he personally attended the speaking engagement of HOFFMAN at the University of Miami on the evening of February 1, 1970. D

[REDACTED] advised that there was much confusion on the platform during the time that HOFFMAN was attempting to speak, coupled with considerable heckling from the audience. His attempted speech was interspersed on numerous occasions by other persons attempting to quiet the crowd so that he could proceed without interruption, however, these efforts were generally unsuccessful.

Regarding statements made by HOFFMAN, [REDACTED] advised that although there were some obscenities dispersed during HOFFMAN's speech, both by him and persons in the audience, nothing transpired which he considered to be a violation of any local statute, and there was no indication that HOFFMAN was attempting to incite the audience.

He advised further that the speech, in itself lacked continuity, and, in fact, it was nothing more than "a shouting contest" between HOFFMAN and persons in the audience. After it had become obvious that HOFFMAN would be unable to deliver his speech without interruption, he left the stage in disgust.

The "Miami News", a Miami, Florida daily newspaper, in its February 2, 1970 issue contained an article by IAN GLASS entitled "Dear Abbie; Advice for Yippie at stormy U-M talk: Duck!", which stated in part as follows:

"Abbie Hoffman, leader of the Yippies, ducked tomatoes and flour-filled bags hurled at him as he addressed a crowd of 3,000 at the University of Miami Student Union patio last night.

"Hoffman, with a fringed buckskin coat wrapped nonchalantly around his shoulders, threw back a few well-chosen four-letter words.

"Hostility between the 33-year-old Hoffman and a certain section of the audience became so tense at one point that Student Union officials bundled TV reporters Tom Regalado and Alan Facemire off the stage.

"As their spotlight beamed on the gum-chewing Hoffman, his wife Anita, cried, 'You're making him a target!'

"Thereafter, Hoffman, his long hair tied in a knot in back, spoke from a darkened stage. Boos from opponents were intermingled with chants of 'Power to the people' from supporters.

"The egg and flour missiles are believed to have come from a group of Cuban exile students. 'There are about 50 of us in the audience,' one of them said.

"Hoffman, on trial with seven others in Chicago for conspiring to start a riot at the 1968 National Democratic Convention, spent yesterday in Miami begging funds to boost their legal defense fund. The trial resumed today.

"Hoffman said the university was paying him $2,000 for last night's one-hour speech, and more than $300 was collected earlier in a crowded, pass-the-hat get together at the Miami Beach home of dentist Dr. Philip Stern.

"The money may very well be needed in about three weeks when the Chicago jury recesses, Hoffman implied.

"He believes there will be a hung jury, but the eight will be jailed for contempt, anyway. 'Whichever way, the rule will be a victory for the people.'

"The jurors are the ones I'm sorry for', said Hoffman. 'They haven't been able to do anything, even read a newspaper, for six months.

"They can only make love under the gaze of a U.S. marshal.'

"He described as 'Nazi Germany all over again, an armed camp' and the trial judge, Julius Hoffman, as Mr. Magoo. 'The trial's a farce - like 800 movies going at once.'

"The police he referred to only as 'pigs.' He said, 'They like to be called pigs. They pat their fat bellies and say, "Look, U.S. grade 1."'

"We've spent a quarter-of-a-million dollars on the trial already,' said Hoffman, adding that a permanent staff of 20 Yippies, plus 50 to 100 volunteers have traveled a million miles drumming up financial support - 'bread.'

"'I'm glad my mother and father are here,' he said, pointing to his parents who had driven down from a Hollywood vacation.

"Said Hoffman: 'We need all the support you can give us. All of your freedoms are involved. We are being tried for a state of mind.

"'Our appearance is what created the riots in Chicago. We are a constant confrontation with The Establishment,' said the Yippie leader, his frizzy hair standing on end as if a magnet were suspended over his head.

"Through it all, Hoffman's pretty young bride, Anita, stood near him. 'I never talk at these things,' she said. 'Abbie does it so much better.'"

The "Miami Herald", a Miami, Florida daily newspaper, in its February 2, 1970 issue contained an article by PAUL LEVINE entitled "'Court Jester' Abbie Hoffman Urges Yippiedom for Miami" which stated in part as follows:

"Smiling Abbie Hoffman, the frizzy haired exponent of 'Revolution for the Hell of it,' abandoned his grim Chicago courtroom for a laughing trip to Miami over the weekend.

"Hoffman said that the Yippies used the same philosophy at Woodstock and persuaded the rock festival promoters to part with $10,000 to keep the group from disrupting the festival.

"The 31-year-old youth cultist spoke first to a group of young people and their hip parents at a Miami Beach home, then to a student group at the University of Miami. At both places, collections were taken for the defense fund for Hoffman and the other defendants in the Chicago Seven riot conspiracy trial.

"Hoffman's pixie-like grin disappeared when he talked of the judge and the trial.

"'Even if we are found guilty, we will have won a victory,' he said, 'We will have taught people all around the country that the courts are used for repression.

"'But the trial has changed, ever since (Judge) Hoffman chained and gagged Bobby Seale. We still recognize Hoffman as a clown, and call him Mr. Magoo. But we realize that this guy can put us away for 10 years.'

"Most of Hoffman's comments were in a lighter vein.

"'How many Yippies are there?' a college-aged youth asked.

"'Between three and four,' Hoffman deadpanned.

"John and Florence Hoffman, Abbie's parents, also were on hand Sunday. They had driven their new, black and white Lincoln Continental from their home in Worcester, Mass., to a vacation spot in Hollywood and came to Miami to see their son.

"In response to questions, Hoffman also spoke his mind on these subjects:

"The Over-30 Set. 'Age, like revolution, is a state of mind. I'm over 30.'

"Communism. 'The Communist Party was against the demonstrations at the convention. What do you expect. Half the party is FBI. Personally, I believe in anarchistic socialism.'"

The February 3, 1970 issue of the "Miami Hurricane", a student publication at the University of Miami, contained an article entitled "Hoffman's 'Drama' Sparks Patio Spectacle" by MELANIE VAN PETTEN, which stated in part as follows:

"'Our whole life style is on trial,' Abbie Hoffman, self-styled 'cultural revolutionary,' informed about 1,000 UM students and a few 'outside agitators' Sunday night.

"'Our whole life style - our views on imperialism and racism - in America, all young people are niggers.'

"Hoffman spent a large part of his time responding to the crowd, who were packed closely on the stage, around Hoffman. Every few minutes, hecklers attempted to make themselves heard, which resulted in the exchange of shouts from all sides of the crowd.

"'This might turn out like Chicago. They started bustin' us, and we told them, 'Why don't you bust Walter Cronkite? He brought us down here.'"

"Hoffman was interrupted several times by a barrage of various and assorted foodstuffs, including flour and tomatoes. To which he remarked:

"'Flour Power - use Betty Crocker. This all has to be viewed as a Greek drama - with the chorus, the harpies, and everything.'

"'What brought you down here?' a heckler inquired.

"'I'm just doing my thing,' Hoffman answered. 'I got two grand from your crummy university to come up here. Why don't you tear the f _ _ _ _ g university apart?

"'You want to do me in, man, send me a bomb at the Federal Building,' Hoffman told a heckler who threatened bodily harm. 'Just send it to "Dear Abbie".

"'There must be something lacking in your culture,' he went on. 'I ain't in your culture. When they told me, "Love it or leave it," I left. Last month was alien registration month, and all the brothers and sisters went down to the Post Office and signed up.'

"'The Pentagon takes orders from Moscow,' Hoffman commented. 'Just ask the National Liberation Front. I saw LBJ and Gromeko in Paterson, N.J., three years ago. I looked from one pig to the other pig and I knew they were the same pig.

"'I'll give you an idea what it's like to be in Chicago,' said Hoffman, who is currently on trial as part of the 'Conspiracy 8,' accused of crossing state lines to commit violence at the 1968 Democratic Convention.

"'This trial in Chicago was our idea,' Hoffman confided to the audience, who chanted 'Power to the people' in response.

The "New York Post", a New York City daily newspaper, in its February 2, 1970, issue on page 16, contained an article entitled "Abbie Tells Students He Sees Jail Term."

This article, datelined "Miami (AP)" stated as follows:

"Abbie Hoffman, on trial in Chicago with six others charged with conspiracy in the 1968 riots during the National Democratic Convention, says he thinks the trial will end in a hung jury but that he and his colleagues will get 3-7 years for contempt.

"Hoffman was shouted down several times by small factions among the 2000 University of Miami students who heard his speech last night.

"Standing on an unlighted open - air patio at the university's student union, Hoffman said Chicago Judge Julius Hoffman had ordered him and other defendants 'not to talk about the trial or we might be thrown in jail.'

"At one point Hoffman's speech was interrupted when dissidents threw bags of flour, one of them smoking, onto the stage. Also thrown at Hoffman were a tomato and an orange. He was not hit.

"Hoffman said he was being paid $2000 for his speech by the university and that the money would go to a legal defense fund to help with expenses of the Chicago trial.

H. University of Maryland,
College Park, Maryland,
February 8, 1970

The "Diamondback", a student newspaper at the University of Maryland, College Park, Maryland, in its February 4, 1970 issue on page two, contained an advertisement for the University of Maryland Student Government Association Speakers Series which stated that the subject and RENNIE DAVIS from the Chicago conspiracy trial, together with ROGER PRIEST, editor of "OM", under court martial by the United States Government, would speak on February 8, 1970, at 8 p.m. at the University of Maryland, College Park, Maryland Armory, with free admission.

[REDACTED] that between 7:55 p.m. and 9:00 p.m. on that date, ROGER PRIEST, RENNIE DAVIS and the subject spoke at the University of Maryland, College Park, Maryland, before 2,500 students in a speakers series sponsored by the University of Maryland Student Government Association. No incidents or arrests were made and the speakers made no obvious inflammatory comments. b2D

ROGER PRIEST, the first speaker, spoke about his specific case and freedom of speech by military personnel in the form of underground newspapers.

RENNIE DAVIS, the second speaker, spoke about the trial in Chicago, Illinois, and encouraged all present to come to Chicago for a demonstration whatever day the verdict was handed down.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

CONFIDENTIAL

NY 100-161445

The subject spoke in comic and general terms about a new revolution by 1976 and that the best defense is a good offense.

RENNIE DAVIS and the subject talked about the 1972 Republican Convention to be held in Hawaii becoming a thousand Chicagos. 67D

[REDACTED] that RENNIE DAVIS and the subject spoke with various students at the University of Maryland, for approximately one hour before leaving the campus to return to Chicago, Illinois.

[REDACTED] that a collection was taken up at the speech for RENNIE DAVIS and the subject to cover their transportation.

The "Diamondback", previously described, in its February 9, 1970 issue, contained an article by SUSAN GAINEN entitled "4,000 at Armory Hear 3 Defendants", which stated in part as follows:

"'Why don't we begin the meeting with one big (obscene) for Judge Hoffman? On three. One-two-three: (obscene).'"

"And 4,000 hippies, yippies and others screamed (obscene) with Rennie Davis in support of David Dellinger in Rockord armory last night.

"Davis and Abbie Hoffman, direct from their four-and-a-half month engagement at the Conspiracy 8 trial in Chicago, and Roger Priest, about to be court martialed by the Navy for sedition held their own court in what Davis called 'the real courtroom.'"

"Defendant Hoffman entered the armory doing cartwheels. He hassled with the microphone and quipped 'the medium is the mess.'

"But, last night was their last stand and Hoffman and Davis lived up to a promise to 'make it big.'

"Clownlike, Hoffman appealed for funds in his typical style. 'It costs a lot of (obscene) money to go to prison these days. This trial has set Hanoi back a pretty penny.'

"After apologizing for being drunk, 'They don't serve Acapulco gold on United Airlines,' he welcomed himself to Maryland.

"Recalling a speech given at UMBC the day before the trial began, he explained its relevance to the conspiracy charge: 'Somehow the government has some kind of screwy computer that can figure all that (obscene) out.'

"Remarks he made that night were introduced as evidence against him shortly after the trial had gotten underway despite defense objects that they were irrelevant.

"Earlier, Davis gleefully admitted that he and Hoffman had conspired on the plane and noted that last night's speech was probably their last chance to incite anything.

"Hoffman, who expects to go to Leavenworth 'where the straight criminals go--with the big boys,' said:

"Maybe we belong there. Nobody's put up a fight like this in the history of the world. The history of political trials is that they're all losers," he added.

"Given the 'law that legislates against the state of mind,' he reminded the crowd, 'only in 1984 fascism can you go to prison under the civil rights act.'

"He also admitted to a conspiracy. 'We are a conspiracy against imperialism, racism, harrassment of the youth culture and the boredom and senility of the American pig culture.'

"Hoffman said, 'We defy every law in the world-- including the law of gravity. What goes up doesn't necessarily have to come down.'"

IV. TELEVISION APPEARANCE

On November 22, 1969, the subject appeared as a guest on a television program aired on National Broadcasting Company-Television (NBC-TV), Channel 5, WMAQ, Chicago, Illinois, with Moderator IRV KUPCINET. During the ensuing discussion, the subject stated in part as follows in response to questions by the moderator if he wanted to overthrow the whole democratic system:

"Well, I'm a culture revolutionist and I think the overthrow of the U.S. government would make a mighty interesting movie, so I'm interested in it. Yes, I think it's senile, menopausal, dinosaur government. I think capitalist system has outgrown its time. People shouldn't relate to each other in terms of property, how much they can get off

CONFIDENTIAL

NY 100-161445

"each other. We ought to have a system that's based on human values, one where people can touch each other, you know, and hug and kiss and in order to have that kind of a nation or that kind of a world, um, we've learned a couple things in the last few years. We've learned that we have to kind of figure out a way how to survive and survival means that we have to learn how to fight and that's what young people, hippies, yippies, whatever, you want to call them, have been learning, and then that we're being treated the way black people have been treated in this country. Anyone that challenges the authority or the cultural morass of people in power, meets the force of that power.

"Well I'm, it's kind of a long thing. I'm not sure that a government is really even needed. It would be kind of a decentralized kind of a society, a world in which people had more control over their lives. I mean U.S. government is, this country makes up one sixteenth of the world population, which controls 55% of the world's wealth. You don't have to be an ardent SDS member to figure out that somehow that's unfair and that's a raw deal and that's not what the goals of the founding fathers who had a revolution, a war which is probably more unpopular than the Vietnam war is today and I don't think that was their goal. I think their goal was a free society. A free society means that things are free. You get, it's like 'Alice's Restaurant', you get anything you want. We, I think we stand on the brink of...

"It would fix up the highways and make sure that people got from one place to another the way they wanted to and take care of transportation, keep the garbage out of the rivers. It would do a hell of a lot better than this government, but it would be essentially a government that would represent and reflect the needs of the people and I don't think that's what we have today.

CONFIDENTIAL

CONFIDENTIAL

NY 100-161445

" And I don't even know if we can talk about it in terms of a one government because you can't have a revolution in this country without having a world revolution, which is presently going on. I mean, people in Vietnam are not going to sit back and let this country come in and turn into a parking lot. The same way we're not.

"We engage in the repelling of aggression. I think that's what, the phrase that I'd like to use. We engage in the repelling of all aggression. There is aggression. Police that we refer to as pigs. In this city they have like the biggest and the best. Chicago, it's always been known for its architecture. They have a relative police state here. I know, ten thirty tonight, ARLO was just telling me that there weren't very many young people at his concert last night and I was saying that's cause at ten thirty every night in Chicago, a thing comes on the t.v. set which says it's now ten thirty p.m., curfew is in effect. If you're 17 or under, you must be off the streets. Curfews exist in most of the major cities in this country and about 40% of the high schools here in Chicago there are cops already in the high schools and people are worried about detention camps being set up. We already have them. They're called high schools. So I think that, I think that America is now embarked on a program of devouring its youth.

"Well, it's a question of how you define revolution. I mean the Russian revolution, all revolutions have (inaudible) a little better system then they had from the beginning. Certainly Russia now is better off than it was under the czar. But the kind of revolution I'm talking about is one in which high degree of technology is involved in which you're living in a post-scarcity economy in which you don't have the battle between the have and have nots because the

"technology is developed to such a point that it's capable of providing everything the people need and I think we have that possibility, we have that potential. We at least have an edge in the door and we at least know that it is, that Utopia is in fact a very realistic outlook. Having a Utopian vision right now. Sitting here while people dance around the moon, you know, and they make, they have machines that can make five billion hotdogs in an hour, you know. It's possible and yet we sit in the system that just is intent on destroying itself and taking lot of the people in the world along with it and I frankly don't intend to sit by silently and join that, what the government refers to as its silent majority and just watch, watch them destroy the land, watch them pollute the waters, watch them pollute the world with their garbage values and their garbage."

V. MISCELLANEOUS

"The East Village Other", previously described, in its February 18, 1970 issue on page four, contained an article under the heading "Literature" which stated as follows:

"NEW YORK (LNS)- Abbie Hoffman's 'Revolution for the Hell of It' will be made into a feature-length movie by producer Hilliard Elkins and director Jacques Levy. Hoffman will help write the screen-play.

"Production will begin in March on locations in New York, Washington, Chicago and other parts of the country. The film, based on Hoffman's book, will use both actors and non-professionals.

BLACK PANTHER PARTY
Also Known As
Black Panther Party for Self-Defense

According to its official newspaper, the Black Panther Party (BPP) was started during December, 1966, in Oakland, California, to organize black people so they can take control of the life, politics and the destiny of the black community. It was organized by BOBBY SEALE, BPP Chairman, and HUEY P. NEWTON, BPP Minister of Defense, NEWTON was sentenced in 1968 to serve 2 to 15 years after being convicted of manslaughter in connection with the killing of an Oakland police officer.

The official newspaper, "The Black Panther", which further describes itself as the "Black Community News Service", states that the BPP advocates the use of guns and guerrilla tactics in its revolutionary program to end oppression of the black people. Residents of the black community are urged to arm themselves against the police who are consistently referred to in the publication as "pigs" who should be killed.

"The Black Panther" issue of September 7, 1968, contains an editorial by BPP Minister of Education, GEORGE MASON MURRAY, which ends with the following:

"Black men. Black people, colored persons of America, revolt everywhere! Arm yourselves. The only culture worth keeping is a revolutionary culture. Change. Freedom everywhere. Dynamite! Black Power. Use the gun. Kill the pigs everywhere."

Included in the introduction to an article appearing in the October 5, 1968, edition of "The Black Panther" is the statement, "...we will not dissent from American Government. We will overthrow it."

Issues of "The Black Panther" regularly contain quotations from the writings of Chairman MAO Tse-tung of the People's Republic of China and feature MAO's statement that "political power grows out of the barrel of a gun."

The national headquarters of the BPP is located at 3106 Shattuck Avenue, Berkeley, California. Branches have been established at various locations throughout the United States.

"Liberation" Magazine (LM) is self-described as an independent monthly with offices at 339 Lafayette Street, New York, New York. A "Statement of Ownership, Management and Circulation" was published in the November, 1968 issue. It listed the Publisher and Editor of the magazine as DAVE DELLINGER. The circulation was given as 10,000.

The following comments appeared in a leaflet distributed by LM in May, 1968:

"Since its inception in 1956, Liberation has played an active and creative role in the growth of the new radicalism in the United States. From civil rights to black liberation, from 'ban the bomb' to the movement to end the war in Vietnam, Liberation has been vital. Its radical critique of American society and its emphasis on democratic and direct action against the inequalities and injustice of our present social structure have inspired radicals, young and old."

"In addition, Liberation will continue to carry articles and discussions written by and to community organizers, student and non-student activists, educators, economists and social scientists - of interest to anybody concerned with building a radical and nonviolent movement that will bring a fundamental change to the existing order."

b7D [REDACTED] that during a speech in New York, New York, on May 10, 1963, DAVE DELLINGER identified himself as a pacifist. He stated it was necessary to abolish the cause of war, which was Capitalism. He advocated a Communist society and said, "I am a Communist," but further stated he was not a Soviet type Communist.

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications" of December 1, 1961, by the Committee on Un-American Activities, United States House of Representatives, Washington, D.C., describes the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee (ECLC) as an organization whose avowed purpose is to abolish the House Committee on Un-American Activities. It stated the ECLC was established in 1951, and "although representing itself as a non-Communist group, actually operates as a front for the Communist Party."

"The New York Times" issue of April 1, 1968, contained an article reflecting the ECLC was changing its name to the National ECLC (NECLC) "to reflect our determination to develop a vital national civil liberties organization in all 50 states as rapidly as possible."

The "Newark Sunday News" of Newark, New Jersey, issue of April 20, 1969, contained an article showing the NECLC, of 25 East 26th Street, New York, New York, operates from its office an anti-war legal help organization for draft-age men, reservists and those on active duty.

1.PROGRESSIVE LABOR PARTY (PLP)

The "New York Times" city edition Tuesday, April 20, 1965, Page 27, reported that a new party of "revolutionary socialism" was formally founded on April 18, 1965, under the name of the PLP, which had been known as the Progressive Labor Movement.

According to the article, "The Progressive Labor Movement was founded in 1962, by MILTON ROSEN and MORTIMER SCHEER after they were expelled from the Communist Party of the United States for assertedly following the Chinese Communist line."

[REDACTED] that the PLP held its Second National Convention in New York City, May 31, to June 2, 1968, at which time the PLP reasserted its objective of the establishment of a militant working class movement based on Marxism-Leninism. This is to be accomplished through the Party's overall revolutionary strategy of raising the consciousness of the people and helping to provide ideological leadership in the working class struggle for state power.

[REDACTED] that at the Second National Convention, MILTON ROSEN was unanimously re-elected National Chairman of the PLP and LEVI LAUB, FRED JEROME, JARED ISRAEL, WILLIAM EPTON, JACOB ROSEN, JEFFREY GORDON and WALTER LINDER were elected as the National Committee to lead the PLP until the next convention.

The PLP publishes "Progressive Labor", a bimonthly magazine; "World Revolution", a quarterly periodical; and "Challenge-Desafio", a monthly newspaper.

The April, 1969, issue of "Challenge-Desafio", sets forth that "Challenge is dedicated to the peoples fight for a new way of life-where the working men and women control their own homes and factories; where they themselves make up the entire government on every level and control the schools, courts, police and all institutions which are now used to control them."

STANDARD FORM NO. 64

[REDACTED] 1961, the National Student Reluctant Society (NSRS) is presently regarded as a radical group. Its founding convention held in 1962, at Fort Hays, Kansas, from an initial posture of "participatory democracy" the role of the national leadership has revealed a growing Marxist-Leninist adherence which currently calls for the building of a revolutionary youth movement. Concurrently, the program of NSRS has shifted from civil rights struggles to an anti-Vietnam War stance and advocacy of a militant anti-imperialist position. Cuba and Cuba are regarded as the leaders of world revolution against United States imperialism whereas the Soviet Union is held to be revisionist and anti-imperialist.

At the June, 1964, NSRS National Convention, the Labor Party (PLP) forces in the organization were expelled. As a result, the National Office (NO) group maintained its national Headquarters at 1608 West Madison Street, Chicago, and the PLP faction set up headquarters in Cambridge, Massachusetts. The headquarters subsequently moved to Boston. The PLP group, which has its own national officers, which is regarded as a national group, and a National Interim Committee of PLP, took the NO to task and the PLP forces claim to be the true NSRS. Both groups are printing their versions of "New Left Notes" which are for the line and the program of the particular faction. The NO version of "New Left Notes" was recently printed under the title "The Fire Next Time" to achieve a proper mass appeal.

Two major factions have developed within the NSRS group, namely, the PLP faction and the NO faction. The PLP (RYM) I faction, on the other hand, is oriented upholding Castro's position that the objective of revolutionaries is to make revolution. While the NO faction regards RYM II as an adventurist, elitist faction which denies the historical role of the working class as the force for revolution. RYM II maintains that revolution, although delayed, is not possible under present conditions, and that the focus is on organizing and raising the political consciousness of the working class upon whom they feel successful revolution depends. disclaiming control and domination by the Communist Party. Leaders in these two factions have in the past proclaimed themselves to be communists and to follow the precepts of a Marxist-Leninist philosophy, along pro-Chinese communist lines.

[REDACTED] which is more commonly known as the People's Liberation Movement is dominated and controlled by members of the PLP. Members are required to identify themselves with the pro-Chinese Marxist-Leninist philosophy of the PLP. Their advocacy of an alliance between workers and students is vital to the bringing about of a revolution in the United States.

SDS regions are university and college chapters, although operating under the outlines of the National Student Constitution, are autonomous in nature and free to develop their independent policy reflective of local conditions. Because of this autonomy internal struggles reflecting the major factional interests of SDS have occurred at the chapter level since the beginning of the 1969-70 school year.

A characterization of the PLP is attached.

On 4/24/70 information was received from Secret Service indicating a Mrs. Grace W. Slick, 2400 Fulton Street, San Francisco, California (born Evanston, Illinois), was to attend a tea at the White House on the afternoon of that date. Secret Service also received a rumor that Mrs. Slick might possibly try to smuggle Hoffman (one of the "Chicago 7") into the White House with her. Secret Service later reported that Mrs. Slick, accompanied by Hoffman, appeared at the White House gate and Mrs. Slick's invitation was withdrawn and neither Slick nor Hoffman was allowed to enter the White House grounds.

In view of the above, San Francisco is instructed to conduct appropriate investigation to fully identify Mrs. Slick and to determine, if possible, what her past connections have been with Hoffman.

Bufiles are negative on Mrs. Slick.

NOTE:

Hoffman was convicted in Chicago on 2/18/70 for a violation of a Federal antiriot statute and was later released on bail by the U. S. Court of Appeals in Chicago pending appeal of his case. Subject has since been touring U. S. making inflammatory speeches in an effort to raise money to defray the cost of his trial and appeal.

On 4/24/70 an informative memorandum was prepared regarding incident at White House and data furnished Secret Service on that date. It was stated in memorandum SF, by separate communication, was being instructed to identify Mrs. Slick and determine her connection with Hoffman.

ABBOTT HOWARD HOFFMAN

On April 8, 1970, at 8:00 pm, Special Agents of the FBI observed Abbott Howard Hoffman, also known as Abbie Hoffman, address approximately 7,000 individuals, mostly students, at the Allen Field House at Kansas University (KU), Lawrence, Kansas. Hoffman's speech contained numerous obscene statements and was strongly critical of his recent trial and conviction in U.S. District Court in Chicago, Illinois. Hoffman was also highly critical of what he termed the establishment in the United States and made critical references to the administration of KU and local authorities in Lawrence, Kansas. Hoffman made no statements encouraging persons to incite violence.

[REDACTED] advised that Abbott Hoffman arrived in Kansas City, Missouri, by air and was driven by automobile to Lawrence, Kansas. He then went to Potter's Lake at approximately 5:30 pm, on April 8, 1970, where he addressed a crowd of several hundred students. [REDACTED] while at Potter's Lake, Hoffman did not make a formal address but merely mingled with the students and he is not known to have made any statements which would be construed as inciting to violence.

[REDACTED] stated that Hoffman reportedly spent the night at 1340 Tennessee Street, in Lawrence, Kansas, which is the residence of David Awbrey, Student Council President. [REDACTED] that Hoffman

[REDACTED] that there was considerable student unrest, both before and after Hoffman addressed the students at KU, but there is no known incident which could be directly attributed to any statements made by Hoffman.

On April 9, 1970, at 8:00 pm, Special Agents of the FBI observed Abbott Hoffman addressing approximately 1,000 individuals, mostly students at Kansas Wesleyan University in Salina, Kansas. At the outset of the speech Hoffman took what appeared to be a handkerchief from his left rear pocket and wiped his nose with this handkerchief. This handkerchief appeared to have red and white stripes with a blue field and what appeared to be possibly white stars. There was an immediate hostile reaction from the crowd and two eggs were thrown at Hoffman. The ushers immediately ejected the individuals throwing the eggs and student leaders quieted the crowd. Thereafter, Hoffman's speech, although marked with obscenity and derogatory remarks to the establishment, and his recent trial and conviction in Chicago, was considerably less violent than his speech given the previous night in Lawrence, Kansas. No statements were made inciting any individuals to take violent action and at the conclusion of his speech Hoffman stated that his main goal in life was to make a revolution in this country without stating how he would do this.

[REDACTED] advised Abbie Hoffman arrived in Salina, Kansas, by air from Kansas City, Missouri, at approximately 5:00 pm, April 9, 1970, and departed from Salina for Kansas City, Missouri, by air at 6:00 am, on April 10, 1970. He spent the night at 324 East Beloit in Salina, Kansas, and [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] that there has been considerable ill feeling toward Hoffman because of his alleged desecration of the American flag when he wiped his nose with what might have been the American flag, and the county attorney in Salina is considering taking action against Hoffman in this regard.

Telephone request received from Secret Service on 4-24-70 requesting information as to whereabouts of captioned subject, one of "Chicago Seven" convicted 2-18-70 in Chicago for violation of Federal antiriot statute. Available data was furnished to Secret Service.

[REDACTED] Secret Service, telephonically contacted Liaison at approximately 11:45 a.m. 4-24-70 stating information received that a Mrs. Grace W. Slick, 2400 Fulton Street, San Francisco, California (born Evanston, Illinois,) is scheduled to attend a tea at White House during afternoon of instant date and it is rumored she might possibly try to smuggle captioned subject into White House. It was also stated Hoffman is reportedly in Washington, D. C., in care of a Carol Armur, no address. Secret Service desired any available data on Slick, Armur and information as to present whereabouts of Hoffman.

Pursuant to request, inquiries developed Bureau files are negative on Mrs. Grace Slick and Carol Armur. Chicago teletype dated 4-14-70 in Hoffman matter listed Hoffman's itinerary filed with Office of United States Marshal that date. It disclosed Hoffman was scheduled to arrive Washington, D. C., on 4-23-70, in care of Dick Davis, telephone area code 301 652-0249, (Washington, D. C. telephone directory, 1970, lists a Richard Burroughs Davis, 4828 Park Avenue, Chevy Chase, Maryland.) It was further indicated Hoffman was scheduled to arrive at New York City at approximately one p.m. on 4-24-70. No additional data was listed in his itinerary as to mode of travel. Checks were made by Washington Field Office (WFO) with Metropolitan Police Department with negative results and WFO possessed no additional data as to

SP-5 RLB/BB

On April 16, 1970, at approximately 8 P. M., a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation heard ABBOTT HOWARD HOFFMAN, a defendant in the recent Chicago Seven Conspiracy Trial, deliver a talk at the Athletic Field at Skidmore College, Saratoga Springs, New York.

HOFFMAN, who had no specific topic, talked at length concerning his trial at Chicago, advocating the use of marijuana, ridicule of the Federal Government and the present judicial system.

HOFFMAN urged the audience to congregate in Poughkeepsie, New York during the forthcoming trial of TIMOTHY LEARY on marijuana charges and asked them to form a committee to insure many participants. He stated anyone who smoked marijuana was obligated to show up at LEARY's trial.

HOFFMAN also stated he would be at New Haven, Connecticut on May Day to demand the freedom of Black Panther Party (BPP) Chairman, BOBBY G. SEALE. HOFFMAN urged the audience to go to New Haven to participate in the demand for SEALE's release. He stated that SEALE was being railroaded into the electric chair and that they must not let this happen.

(A characterization of the Black Panther Party is contained in the Appendix hereto.)

HOFFMAN stated that America wants to devour its youth and that America has a children-for-breakfast program. HOFFMAN told the audience that in the eyes of America they are considered outlaws, so they ought to start acting like outlaws. He related that we live in a system that is violent and anything done to destroy this system is an act of love. He further stated that in order to survive they would have to learn to fight. He mentioned that the "hippies" living in communes in Texas, which was recently visited, were arming themselves and receiving instructions in karate and judo.

In response to a question from the audience concerning H. RAP BROWN, HOFFMAN replied that all he could say was that BROWN was definitely alive and that he would be foolish to face charges against him in the State of Maryland. HOFFMAN advised that the fee he received for this evening's talk would go to BOBBY G. SEALE, for his defense in Connecticut.

(H. RAP BROWN is publicly known as the former chairman of the Students Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC).

(A characterization of the Students Non-Violent Coordinating Committee is contained in the Appendix hereto.)

HOFFMAN's talk was concluded at approximately 9:30 P. M. and no incidents of any type occurred. No arrests were made by local authorities.

BLACK PANTHER PARTY, Also Known as
Black Panther Party for Self-Defense

According to its official newspaper, the Black Panther Party (BPP) was started during December, 1966, in Oakland, California, to organize black people so they can take control of the life, politics and the destiny of the black community. It was organized by Bobby Seale, BPP Chairman, and Huey P. Newton, BPP Minister of Defense. Newton was sentenced in 1968 to serve 2 to 15 years after being convicted of manslaughter in connection with the killing of an Oakland police officer.

The official newspaper, "The Black Panther," which further describes itself as the "Black Community News Service," states that the BPP advocates the use of guns and guerrilla tactics in its revolutionary program to end oppression of the black people. Residents of the black community are urged to arm themselves against the police who are consistently referred to in the publication as "pigs" who should be killed.

"The Black Panther" issue of September 7, 1968, contains an editorial by BPP Minister of Education, George Mason Murray, which ends with the following:

"Black men. Black people, colored persons of America, revolt everywhere! Arm yourselves. The only culture worth keeping is a revolutionary culture. Change. Freedom everywhere. Dynamite! Black Power. Use the gun. Kill the pigs everywhere."

Included in the introduction to an article appearing in the October 5, 1968, edition of "The Black Panther" is the statement ". . . we will not dissent from American Government. We will overthrow it."

Issues of "The Black Panther" regularly contain quotations from the writings of Chairman Mao Tse-tung of the People's Republic of China and feature Mao's statement that "political power grows out of the barrel of a gun."

The national headquarters of the BPP is located at 3106 Shattuck Avenue, Berkeley, California. Branches have been established at various locations throughout the United States.

APPENDIX

STUDENT NATIONAL COORDINATING COMMITTEE

[REDACTED] the Student National Coordinating Committee (SNCC), formerly known as the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, is a nonmembership organization founded in 1960, during the civil rights movement in the South.

Under the leadership of Stokely Carmichael, who served as National Chairman during the period 1966-67, SNCC evolved from a civil rights oriented group into a full-blown black revolutionary organization.

A publication entitled "1967 High Tide of Black Resistance" indicates the year 1967 was considered by SNCC as a historic milestone for the liberation of black people in the United States and the year that revolutionaries throughout the world began to understand more fully the impact of the black movement. The publication declared that "liberation will come only when there is final destruction of this made octopus--the capitalistic system of the United States with all its life-sucking tentacles of exploitation and racism that choke the people of Africa, Asia, and Latin America. The realities of black life, together with the recognition instilled in SNCC workers, forced its members to further popularize the legitimacy of self-defense and rebellions when oppression became too great."

[REDACTED] that H. Rap Brown succeeded Carmichael as National Chairman of SNCC in May, 1968, and served in that capacity until June, 1968, at which time SNCC reorganized, creating ten deputy chairmen in an effort to relieve pressure by law enforcement.

In April, 1969, SNCC moved its national headquarters from Atlanta, Georgia, to New York City, where it is presently located.

H. Rap Brown announced at a press conference in New York City on July 22, 1969, that he had been elected Chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee. He announced the organization was dropping the word "Nonviolent" from its title and will be known as the Student National Coordinating Committee, with a Revolutionary Political Council functioning as its governing body. Brown, at that time, stated the use of force is necessary in obtaining revolutionary goals.

Security Matter - Anarchist

On May 5, 1970, at approximately 9:50 a.m., a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, observed Abbott Hoffman and subsequently his attorney, Gerald Lefcourt, enter Part 2B of the Criminal Court of the City of New York, Room 411, 100 Centre Street, New York City, where Hoffman was scheduled to appear before the court for trial in connection with his arrest at Columbia University, New York City on April 30, 1968, by the New York City Police Department on Charges of Criminal Trespassing and Resisting Arrest.

At 10:10 a.m., the Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation observed Hoffman and his attorney, Gerald Lefcourt, leave the court room and proceed to the elevators of the building.

On May 5, 1970, an official of the Criminal Court of the City of New York, Part 2B, 100 Centre Street, New York City, advised a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation that Abbott Hoffman appeared with his attorney, Gerald Lefcourt, in Part 2B of the Criminal Court, New York City on May 5, 1970, and that his case was continued by the court for May 12, 1970, based on a motion made by Hoffman's attorney for a delay.

The March, 1969, issue of the "Rights" self-described as a publication of the National Emergency Civil Liberties Committee (NECLC), on page 12, reported that on February 1, (1969), the NECLC welcomed Gerald Lefcourt to its staff as Legislative Director.

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications" of December 1, 1961, by the Committee on Un-American Activities, United States House of Representatives, Washington, D.C., describes the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee (ECLC) as an organization whose avowed purpose is to abolish the House Committee on Un-American Activities. It stated the ECLC was established in 1951, and "although representing itself as a non-Communist group, actually operates as a front for the Communist Party."

"The New York Times" issue of April 1, 1968, contained an article reflecting the ECLC was changing its name to the National ECLC (NECLC) "to reflect our determination to develop a vital national civil liberties organization in all 50 states as rapidly as possible."

The "Newark Sunday News" of Newark, New Jersey, issue of April 20, 1969, contained an article showing the NECLC, of 25 East 26th Street, New York, New York, operates from its office an anti-war legal help organization for draft-age men, reservists and those on active duty.

Abbott Howard Hoffman
Security Matter - Anarchist

On May 12, 1970, at approximately 9:50 a.m., a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), observed Abbott Hoffman and subsequently his attorney, Gerald Lefcourt, enter Part 2B of the Criminal Court of the City of New York, Room 411, 100 Centre Street, New York City (NYC), where Hoffman was scheduled to appear before the court for trial in connection with his arrest at Columbia University (CU), NYC, on April 30, 1968, by the New York City Police Department (NYCPD) on charges of Criminal Trespassing and Resisting Arrest. Hoffman was also scheduled to appear before the court for trial in connection with his arrest by the NYCPD on April 11, 1969, on charges of Disorderly Conduct, Resisting Arrest, Harrassment, Obstructing Governmental Administration and Simple Assault.

At 10:35 a.m., the Special Agent of the FBI observed Hoffman and his attorney, Gerald Lefcourt, leave the courtroom and proceed to the elevators of the building.

On May 12, 1970, an official of the Criminal Court of the City of New York, Part 2B, 100 Centre Street, NYC, advised a Special Agent of the FBI that Abbott Hoffman appeared with his attorney, Gerald Lefcourt, in Part 2B of the Criminal Court, NYC, on May 12, 1970, and that his cases were continued by the court for October 19, 1970 and September 21, 1970, respectively, based on motions made by Hoffman's attorney for delays. These cases will be tried in part 2B3 of the Criminal Court.

The March, 1969, issue of the "Rights", self-described as a publication of the National Emergency Civil Liberties Committee (NECLC), on page 12, reported that on February 1, (1969), the NECLC welcomed Gerald Lefcourt to its staff as Legislative Director.

A characterization of the NECLC is attached hereto.

NATIONAL EMERGENCY CIVIL LIBERTIES
COMMITTEE, Formerly Known As
Emergency Civil Liberties Committee

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications" of December 1, 1961, by the Committee on Un-American Activities, United States House of Representatives, Washington, D.C., describes the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee (ECLC) as an organization whose avowed purpose is to abolish the House Committee on Un-American Activities. It stated the ECLC was established in 1951, and "although representing itself as a non-Communist group, actually operates as a front for the Communist Party."

"The New York Times" issue of April 1, 1968, contained an article reflecting the ECLC was changing its name to the National ECLC (NECLC) "to reflect our determination to develop a vital national civil liberties organization in all 50 states as rapidly as possible."

The "Newark Sunday News" of Newark, New Jersey, issue of April 20, 1969, contained an article showing the NECLC, of 25 East 26th Street, New York, New York, operates from its office an anti-war legal help organization for draft-age men, reservists and those on active duty.

Rerep of SA [REDACTED] dated 4/13/70 at New York.

On 5/20/70, SA [REDACTED] reviewed the Clerk's file of the case of ABBIE HOFFMAN vs. the U. S. (Docket # 23,514) in the Clerk's Office, U. S. Court of Appeals, Washington, D.C.

The file disclosed that the case is pending before the U. S. Court of Appeals.

The following items of interest were contained in the file:

On 1/12/70, HOFFMAN's attorneys requested that the case of THOMAS WAYNE JOYCE vs. the United States be consolidated with the case of ABBIE HOFFMAN, Appellant vs. the United States. The Appellant argued that in the JOYCE case the defendant JOYCE was convicted in the Court of General Sessions for violation of the Federal Flag Desecration Statute (18 U.S.C. 700). On 12/2/69 the D. C. Court of Appeals affirmed JOYCE's conviction based solely on the precedent established in the case of HOFFMAN vs. the United States.

The United States (Appellee) requested an extension of time for the filing of their brief concerning the JOYCE case.

On 2/9/70, a brief of the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) on behalf of HOFFMAN as Amicus Curae was filed with the Clerk's Office, U. S. Court of Appeals.

Review of subject's file discloses that as a writer, lecturer and T.V. guest personality, Hoffman receives a considerable amount of money. There is also the possibility that subject's book, "Revolution for the Hell of It," will be made into a movie which will add to his income.

It is recognized that to trace this type of income is difficult; however, renewed efforts must be made to determine all sources of Hoffman's income, and, if possible, the ultimate use of this money by subject.

Initiate investigation to identify all of Hoffman's income sources [REDACTED]

he attended the above mentioned benefit and stated that Abbie Hoffman did not appear.

[REDACTED] that Jerry Rubin spoke at the above benefit at 9:00 p.m., at which time there were approximately 400 people in attendance. Rubin stated that the Conspiracy 7 had (obscene) up the court system. He stated Judge Hoffman was the "biggest Yippie of them all". Rubin indicated that the Conspiracy 7 was going to make a movie about the Chicago trial, and they would offer Judge Hoffman $100,000 to play himself. Rubin referred to various incidents of the trial in a humorous manner, including Judge Hoffman's request that Bobby Seale speak up during the time he was gagged in court. APPENDIX1.BLACK PANTHER PARTY

According to its official newspaper, the Black Panther Party (BPP) was started during December, 1966, in Oakland, California, to organize black people so they can take control of the life, politics, and the destiny of the black community. It was organized by BOBBY GEORGE SEALE, BPP Chairman, and HUEY P. NEWTON, BPP Minister of Defense. NEWTON is presently serving a sentence of 2 to 15 years on a conviction of manslaughter in connection with the killing of an Oakland police officer.

The official newspaper, "The Black Panther", which further describes itself as the "Black Community News Service", states that the BPP advocates the use of guns and guerrilla tactics in its revolutionary program to end oppression of the black people. Residents of the black community are urged to arm themselves against the police who are consistently referred to in the publication as "pigs" who should be killed.

"The Black Panther" issue of September 7, 1968, contains an editorial by BPP Minister of Education, GEORGE MASON MURRAY, which ends with the following:

"Black men. Black people, colored persons of America, revolt everywhere! Arm yourselves. The only culture worth keeping is a revolutionary culture. Change. Freedom everywhere. Dynamite! Black Power. Use the gun. Kill the pigs everywhere."

Included in the introduction to an article appearing in the October 5, 1968, edition of "The Black Panther" is the statement, "... we will not dissent from American Government. We will overthrow it."

Issues of "The Black Panther" regularly contain quotations from the writings of Chairman MAO Tse-tung of the People's Republic of China and feature MAO's statement that "political power grows out of the barrel of a gun."

The national headquarters of the BPP is located at 3106 Shattuck Avenue, Berkeley, California. Branches have been established at various locations throughout the United States.

War Foes Split on Priorities

By CHRIS WILLIAMS

The peace movement is alive and united on the need for new priorities but split over what those priorities are and how they should be reached.

Jerry Rubin, speaking at the "1970 Senators for Peace and New Priorities" rally at Madison Square Garden last night, represents one extreme. He said there was a "greater danger from liberals who compromise with the right wing than from the right wing" itself.

Rubin said "freeing Panthers is more important than supporting Senators who sell you out at the next train stop."

Sen. Hughes (D-Iowa) said "the new priorities call for massive changes in our system and reallocation of our resources" within the system.

Galaxy of Stars

Other speakers at the rally, sponsored by the Fund for New Priorities, included former Attorney General Ramsey Clark and journalist I.F. Stone. Many entertainers including Henry and Peter Fonda, Alan Alda, and Eli Wallach were there. So were 1 men and women who were indicted or convicted in civil liberties cases during the past year.

Rubin, Abbott Hoffman, a member of the Panthers and the 12 civil liberties defendants all appeared at the end of the program.

Until they went on, the rally was unified. But many people walked out during the closing speeches, and others heckled. However, many of the younger members of the audience massed on the stage. The rally was attended by between 10,000 and 12,000 people—about half the Garden's capacity.

Hughes characterized the Nixon Administration as a "government that at this time represents another three Rs—regression, recession, and repression." He said the Administration was "locked in to the policies of the past—the suicidal policies of gradualism, compromise, (and) postponement."

Community Action

The Senator said, "We can break out of the treadmill of militarism, wipe out hunger and malnutrition, make our homes safe, preserve civil rights, and rescue our environment."

He said the basis for establishing these new priorities was organization at the community level and reform of the political parties.

Clark said the Administration would "sacrifice liberty for safety and lose both."

Stone accused Nixon of trying to "block out the cost of the Vietnam war." He characterized John Mitchell as the "most repressive Attorney General since A. Mitchell Palmer, father of the post-World War I Red Hunt."
